

BST Detectable Brushes BRN18*

The BST Detectable Brushes Range

Our wide range of hygienic brushes and broom heads feature fully detectable, specially formulated moulded-in bristles. The detectable PBT bristle material has very low moisture absorption, high temperature resistance, good wear resistance and can be autoclaved.

Stray bristles are designed to be detected by in line metal detection systems which are widely used throughout the food industry. By being detected, contaminated food can be automatically rejected, actively reducing foreign body contamination associated with regular brush bristles.

BST have a range of brushes, from small tube brushes ideal for cleaning tubes and bottles to extra long utility brushes ideal for cleaning large containers, buckets and machinery. We also have a selection of broom heads designed to fit easily and securely to our aluminium broom handles, which are supplied separately.

Brushes Range Advantages

- ✓ Detectable by in-line metal detection systems
- ✓ Strong, durable and high temperature resistant
- ✓ Various bristle options available including hard and medium hard
- ✓ Compliant with EU & FDA food contact legislation
- ✓ Can be used as part of HACCP and BRC procedures
- ✓ Displays due diligence in the prevention of foreign body contamination

Material Information

The brush bodies are made of non detectable closed-pore polypropylene (PP). This guarantees a perfect fit of the bristle bundles. Smooth and dirt-repellent surfaces without angles and edges prevent microorganisms from accumulating.

The bristles are manufactured from metal detectable polyester PBT which is suitable for use with all common cleaning products. They do not absorb moisture and retain their original stiffness in hot water. The bristle bundles anchor with stainless steel wire. This guarantees a life-long perfect support of the bristles.

Safety Certificates / Approvals

FDA Approved	FEIBP Compliant	ISO 9001:2015
EU Compliant	BRC Compliant	Made In Britain

Food Contact Status

The PBT filaments used in our brushes are compliant with FDA regulation 21CFR 1077.1660 “Polytetramethylene Terephthalate”, with the scope of application being “Filaments used for repeated use in contact with food”. Brush handles are manufactured using food safe non detectable polypropylene plastic.

These brushes meet the requirements of IFS (International Featured Standard) and the HACCP concept (Hazard Analysis and Critical Control Points) as well as EU Regulations 10/2011 and EC 1935/2004, RL2002/72/EC and the Charter of the European Association of Brush Manufacturers for professional hygiene brush goods. All raw materials are food-approved according to the latest EC/EU guidelines for products that come into contact with food.

In addition, we use only raw materials that correspond with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA). All our brushes correspond with the set of regulations ‘PHB Charter’ of the European Association of Brush Manufacturers (FEIBP), which was developed specifically for manufacturers of hygiene brushes.

Metal Detectability

The bristles of our brushes are embedded with food safe ferrous content, giving them magnetic properties and making them detectable by conventional metal detection systems. The metal detectability of this product will vary based on, but not limited to:

- Calibration Levels
- Product Type (E.g. Wet, Dry, Frozen, Liquid)
- Aperture Dimensions
- Orientation

Orientation is a highly influential factor for the metal detectability of a contaminant that is non spherical, i.e. it will be easier to detect the contaminant when passing in one orientation compared to another - this is known as the orientation effect.

For this reason BST recommend that all our products be thoroughly tested on your metal detection systems by a trained and certified professional. It may be the case that your equipment needs to be re-calibrated in order to reliably detect this product. Such a professional should be available by contacting the manufacturer of your metal detection system.
