

Stab Protection Glove | PE10GL*SS304MS*

Product Description

These 304 stainless steel, food grade gloves are perfect to protect against cuts when preparing food, sharpening knives, or cleaning blades. Not only does the glove protect your hands from sharp knives, but it also makes it easier to hold onto slippery food. The steel mesh is impressively pliable, cut resistant and the tapered fit and adjustable wrist clasp ensure a secure, comfortable fit that won't slide or fall off. Designed to be worn with internal insulating gloves or alone so that you can cut, chop, slice, butcher, and filet any meat at any temperature. Extensively used in industrial, construction, and food processing markets.
